Acting Style

I've been compared to Zoe Saldana and Kerry Washington in reference to acting style. Zoe Saldana because of my kickboxing background and athletic physique. Kerry Washington for my dramatic monologue performances and undying love for Shonda Rhimes.

Coaches' Feedback

My acting coaches have described me as "hungry to learn," "curious about all elements of character development" and "grounded in her decisions which make her performances dynamic."

Self-disciplined with Growth Mindset

I am self-disciplined when learning new skills and I'm always looking for creative challenges... unless I'm watching The CROWN/OZARK/MOONLIGHT - then all my discipline goes out the window because I'm hypnotized with a bag of Lay chips.

Other Specific IGK Things

I have an obsession with personal growth books... specifically on Audible. I've published a book of monologues! My life's purpose is to be prolific, connect deeply with others, and to create art!
